ANNOUNCEMENTS AND INSPIRATION

12th Sunday in Ordinary Time - Often, when I am visiting with people, the conversation may turn to their particular fears. When I ask them to share their fears, some of their answers deal with the future, changes in their lives especially regarding their health, a past secret being made public, rejection, being alone, and ultimately their death. Other fears deal with the conditions in the world – and many of them, having lived thru some wicked wars, fear the threat of our country being called into the action of a brutal war.

I'll ask them if there is any way we can control or alter any of those fears, and they come to realize that they cannot. So – what can we do to "have no fear"? Trust God's promise to be with us to find a way to face whatever comes our way. That sounds a lot like the wisdom of Jeremiah that we hear in this weekend's first reading: "The Lord is with me, like a mighty champion: my persecutors... will not prevail" (Jeremiah 20:11).

Being aware of God's presence and His grace, makes all the difference. We know the overflowing gift of God's grace through Jesus Christ, as Paul shares in his letter to the Church in Rome.

We live in unsettled times. Issues are brewing almost everywhere, including in our very own country. Conflicts and divisions seem to be deepening every day and the news headlines constantly reveal more. We hesitate to have our children play outside alone, we fear being vulnerable in public places, and things we normally could trust are being called into question. Fear is an emotion not only becoming more common, but becoming justifiable in light of our current situation.

But we are people of faith and Jesus clearly makes the point that fear has no place in the life of the disciple. Matthew's Gospel specifically tells us: "Fear no one." Imagined, crippling fear can prevent us from discovering and enjoying life's beauty and developing our true potential.

This is the place where our readings bring us this week. As people of faith, we are called to trust that we are being led by God and that God's presence is with us. Jeremiah the prophet understood this, as did Jesus. God values us -and even the hairs on our head are counted. In the end, if we believe in God's promise then nothing can ever really happen to us. We cannot be destroyed. We may lose our life in the present world. But we will have eternal life in the next. Our world is a challenging place to live. Life can be unstable and innocent people are hurt every day. In response, we can develop a fear of our world so great that it prevents us from actually living. As children of God and followers of Jesus, we need to consider the strength of our faith.

Let us pray for the Conversion of the World & for Peace.

Not everyone is familiar with the name St Francis de Sales. And if we know the name, we may not be familiar with any of his teachings. One of his better known quotes teaches: "Do not look forward to what may happen tomorrow; the same everlasting Father who cares for you today will take care of you tomorrow and every day. Either He will shield you from suffering, or He will give you unfailing strength to bear that suffering. Be at peace, then, put aside all anxious thoughts and imaginations, and say continually: 'The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart has trusted in Him and I am helped. He is not only with me, but in me, and I in Him.'"

Have no fear – easier said than done, but not impossible. Try this little exercise to calm down when fears get to you. Recall that you are always in God's presence. With that awareness, name your fears. Take a deep breath and give those fears to God as you release that breath. Then breathe deeply into your entire being the all-encompassing presence of God and let Him carry those fears. And - that's what Jesus the Good Shepherd promises us – that He will protect and guide us and carry our problems on His shoulders.
